Georgia (G&C)

Georgia got off the train at six she thought she'd never be there again
But now her fix means everything has to change
Her brain's not right and her body's in danger.

Or worse the whole world could be lost and thrown out
Her own muddle was fine
Not now it's grown out of her mind oh Georgia.

Georgia went to the zoo and she saw fourteen penguins there
They all turned round and looked straight at her troubled face

They opened up their beaks like they were going to speak
And then they spoke in a tone
That made poor Georgia feel like going home
They said:
"%()(%)*%)(&)$&
+&$+)$+($+($+($+$
And she sort of agreed.

Samantha (A&E)

There's a powder room in the basement
And a strange sound
When you opened up the window all you saw was
Dust and gravel
Hey Samantha.

It's hard to walk through a park without grass
Or flowers or trees or the gentle buzz of bees
Samantha you're fiction and you're boring and you're just like him.

A soft tap buzz, he lied to me at nine
Samantha.

A deep dark stare, he thought I'd never track him down

Samantha you've got eyebrows and some teeth
But nothing in between your eardrums.

Hey Samantha what you know is clear.

When the glasses feel warm and the alcohol begins to set
I try to think of nothing you're the only place I seem to get.
Hey Samantha, your hair is kinda rubbish and your teeth,
They look, like an after dinner panic everything is broken
And this song is finished, this song was written in two chords
An A and an E
An A and an E.

Harriet (odd DGC#GAD tuning, odd DGC#GAD chords)

Harriet
What have you done now
Your footsteps haven't got a chance of ever getting home
And they're the victims of your own mess Harriet

You've a sparkle in your eyes
We'll take it home with us tonight
Oh Harriet
Don't

Notes: It should be noted that Georgia, Samantha and Harriet are all works of fiction. They do not exist, which is a good thing as they are bad people. It should also be noted that penguins do not, as far as I know, speak in the symbols listed or sound as they do on this record. A final point to be made is that although Samantha doesn't appear to have eyebrows or teeth on the picture that's just because you're not looking hard enough. Or because Mr Pencakowski drew it before he heard the song. You decide. Many thanks go out to you for reading this and listening to the record and to the artists for contributing their work.
